

NLIHC State and Tribal Partners

NLIHC works closely with state and tribal partners in each state or region of the country. NLIHC offers unique support for these partners, such as regular forums for networking and knowledge-sharing and in turn, partners commit to advocating for the lowest-income renters in their region and educating and mobilizing their network around NLIHC's policy priorities. State partners are housing and homelessness advocacy organizations that serve whole states or regions within a state. NLIHC's affiliation with tribal partners is a newer endeavor to expand collaboration on affordable housing advocacy with tribal communities across the country. Tribal partners are nonprofit organizations that serve tribes in particular geographic regions, that prioritize increasing affordable housing for the lowest-income renters, and that seek to end homelessness.

Currently, NLIHC has one tribal partner and 66 state partners operating in 45 states and the District of Columbia. Please become a member or an active advocate with the partner organizations where you live, as well as NLIHC, to strengthen state and national advocacy for more affordable housing. For information about becoming a state or tribal partner, contact outreach@nlihc.org.
